

Mount Carleton Provincial Park officially opened May 15th and the camp ground is open as well.

The 2019 park closing date is Oct 14, 2019.

Mount Carleton Provincial Park has five campgrounds.

Armstrong Brook Campground is the largest. This area consists of three loops.

Ten of the sites on the inner loop are drive-through. The rest will accommodate either a tent-trailer or tent. The eight campsites alongside the brook are designated for tents only.

Each campsite has a fire pit. There is a kitchen shelter, an unsupervised playground, and washrooms/shower facilities.

The Nictau Lake swimming area is easily accessible from this campground.

Franquelin and Williams Brook Campgrounds

Re-opened in 2008, these two campgrounds offer what might be called a semi-wilderness experience meaning that there is no running water and outhouses are the norm. Located at each site is a tenting platform constructed of lumber, a picnic table, and a fire pit. Each of these two campgrounds also has a garbage depot emptied daily by park staff.
